

Beaks and Feet, Feathers and Wings

CHORUS

Beaks and feet, feathers and wings, in the mountains or down by the shore.
Beaks and feet, feathers and wings, here's what they use them for:

A beak can tell you what that bird eats, a sharp curved beak that bird eats meat.
A beak can tell you what that bird needs. A round blunt beak that bird eats seeds.

CHORUS

A beak that's sharp and short in size, is the perfect beak for eating flies.
A beak can grab its favorite dish, a long sharp beak can stab a fish.

CHORUS

A short thin beak it has the power, to sip some nectar from a flower.
Sometimes a beak digs in the muck, like the wide flat bill of a duck. (quack)

Beaks and feet feathers and wings, on the ground or up in the trees.
Beaks and feet feathers and wings, those birdies are singin' to me. (whistle)

Hidee hidee Hi! Hidee hidee ho!

You have to spread your wings and away we go. (come on let's go!)

Wocka Wocka Wocka
A pecka A pecka peck
Waggle Waggle Waggle

Now stretch your neck
Put on a little top notch
Run across the trail
Say Ohio Ohio
Cause your a Quail

Awonk wonk wonk
Go Weew Weew
Go "whistle" "whistle" "whistle"

Go "owl sound" "owl sound" "owl sound"
Go tweet tweet tweet

Go "other owl sound" "other owl sound" other owl sound"

"Crow sound" "crow sound" "crow sound"
"Qw crow sound" "Qw crow sound" "Qw crow sound"
"Robin sound" "robin sound" "robin sound"
"Vireo sound" "vireo sound" "vireo sound"

Tweety Tweety

Who cooks for you, who cooks for you.
