Written by Steve Van Zandt

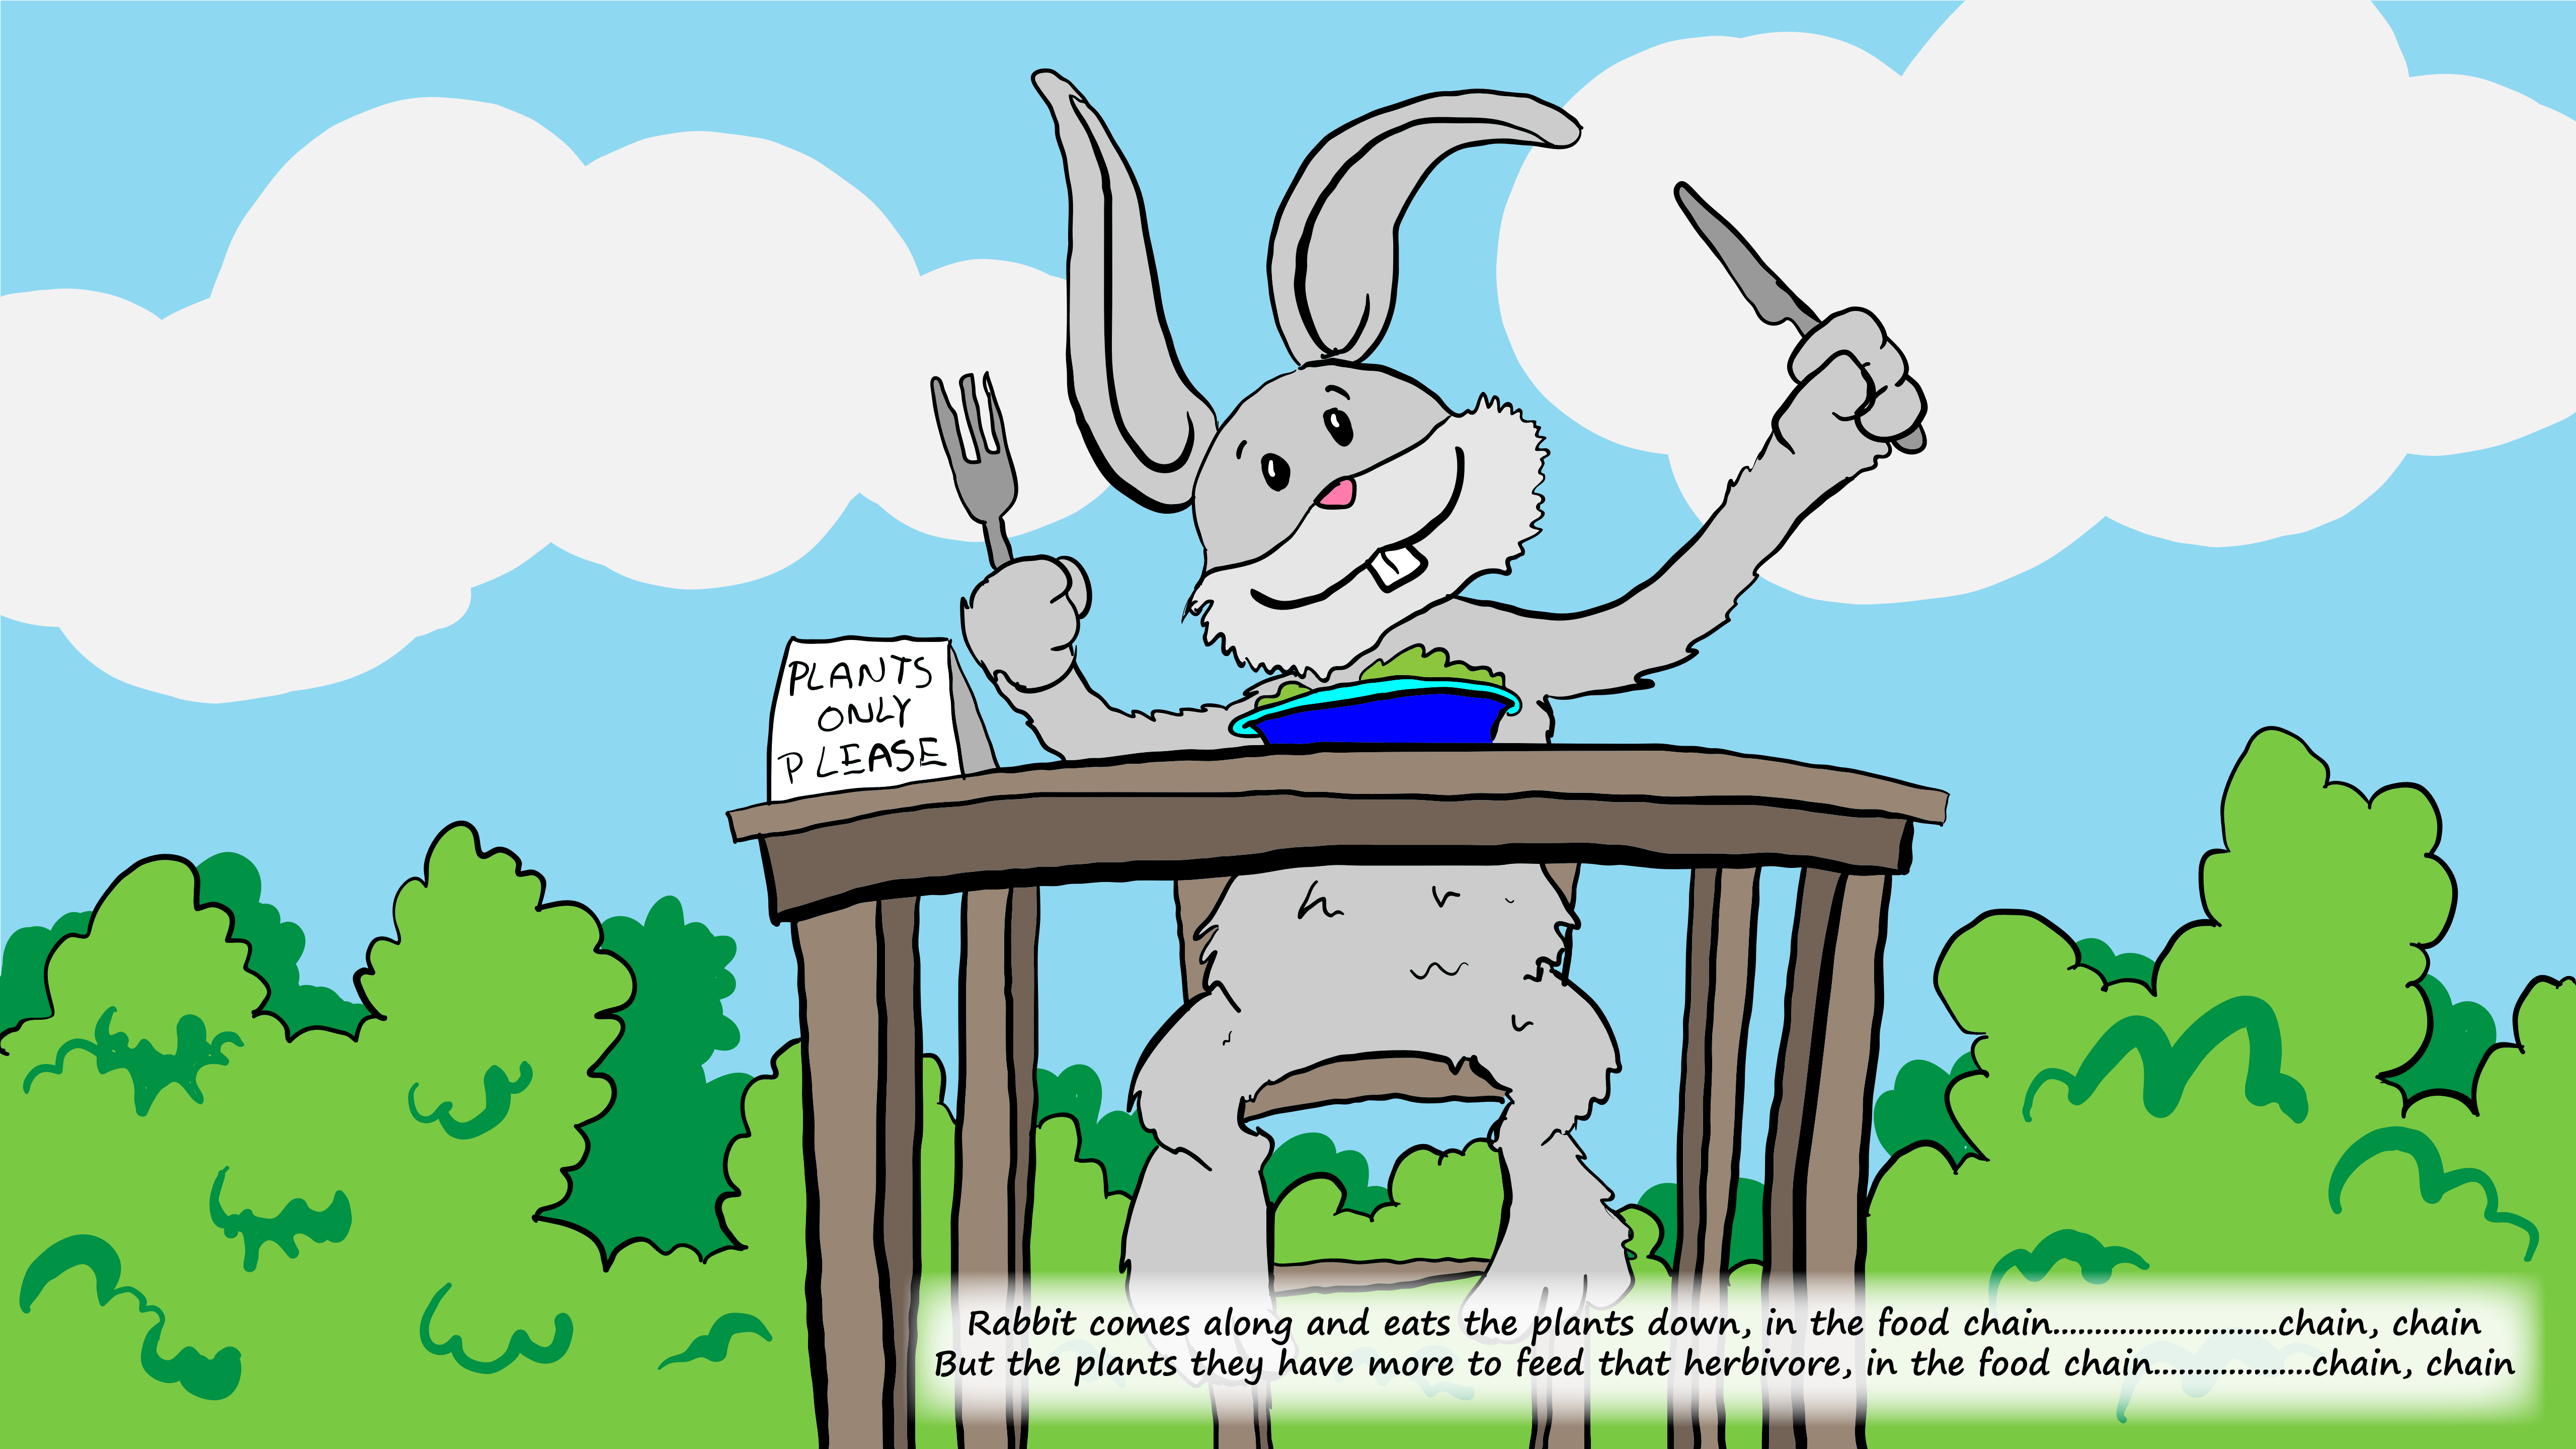

Illustrated by Rick Mack

Book based on a song by the Banana Slug String Band

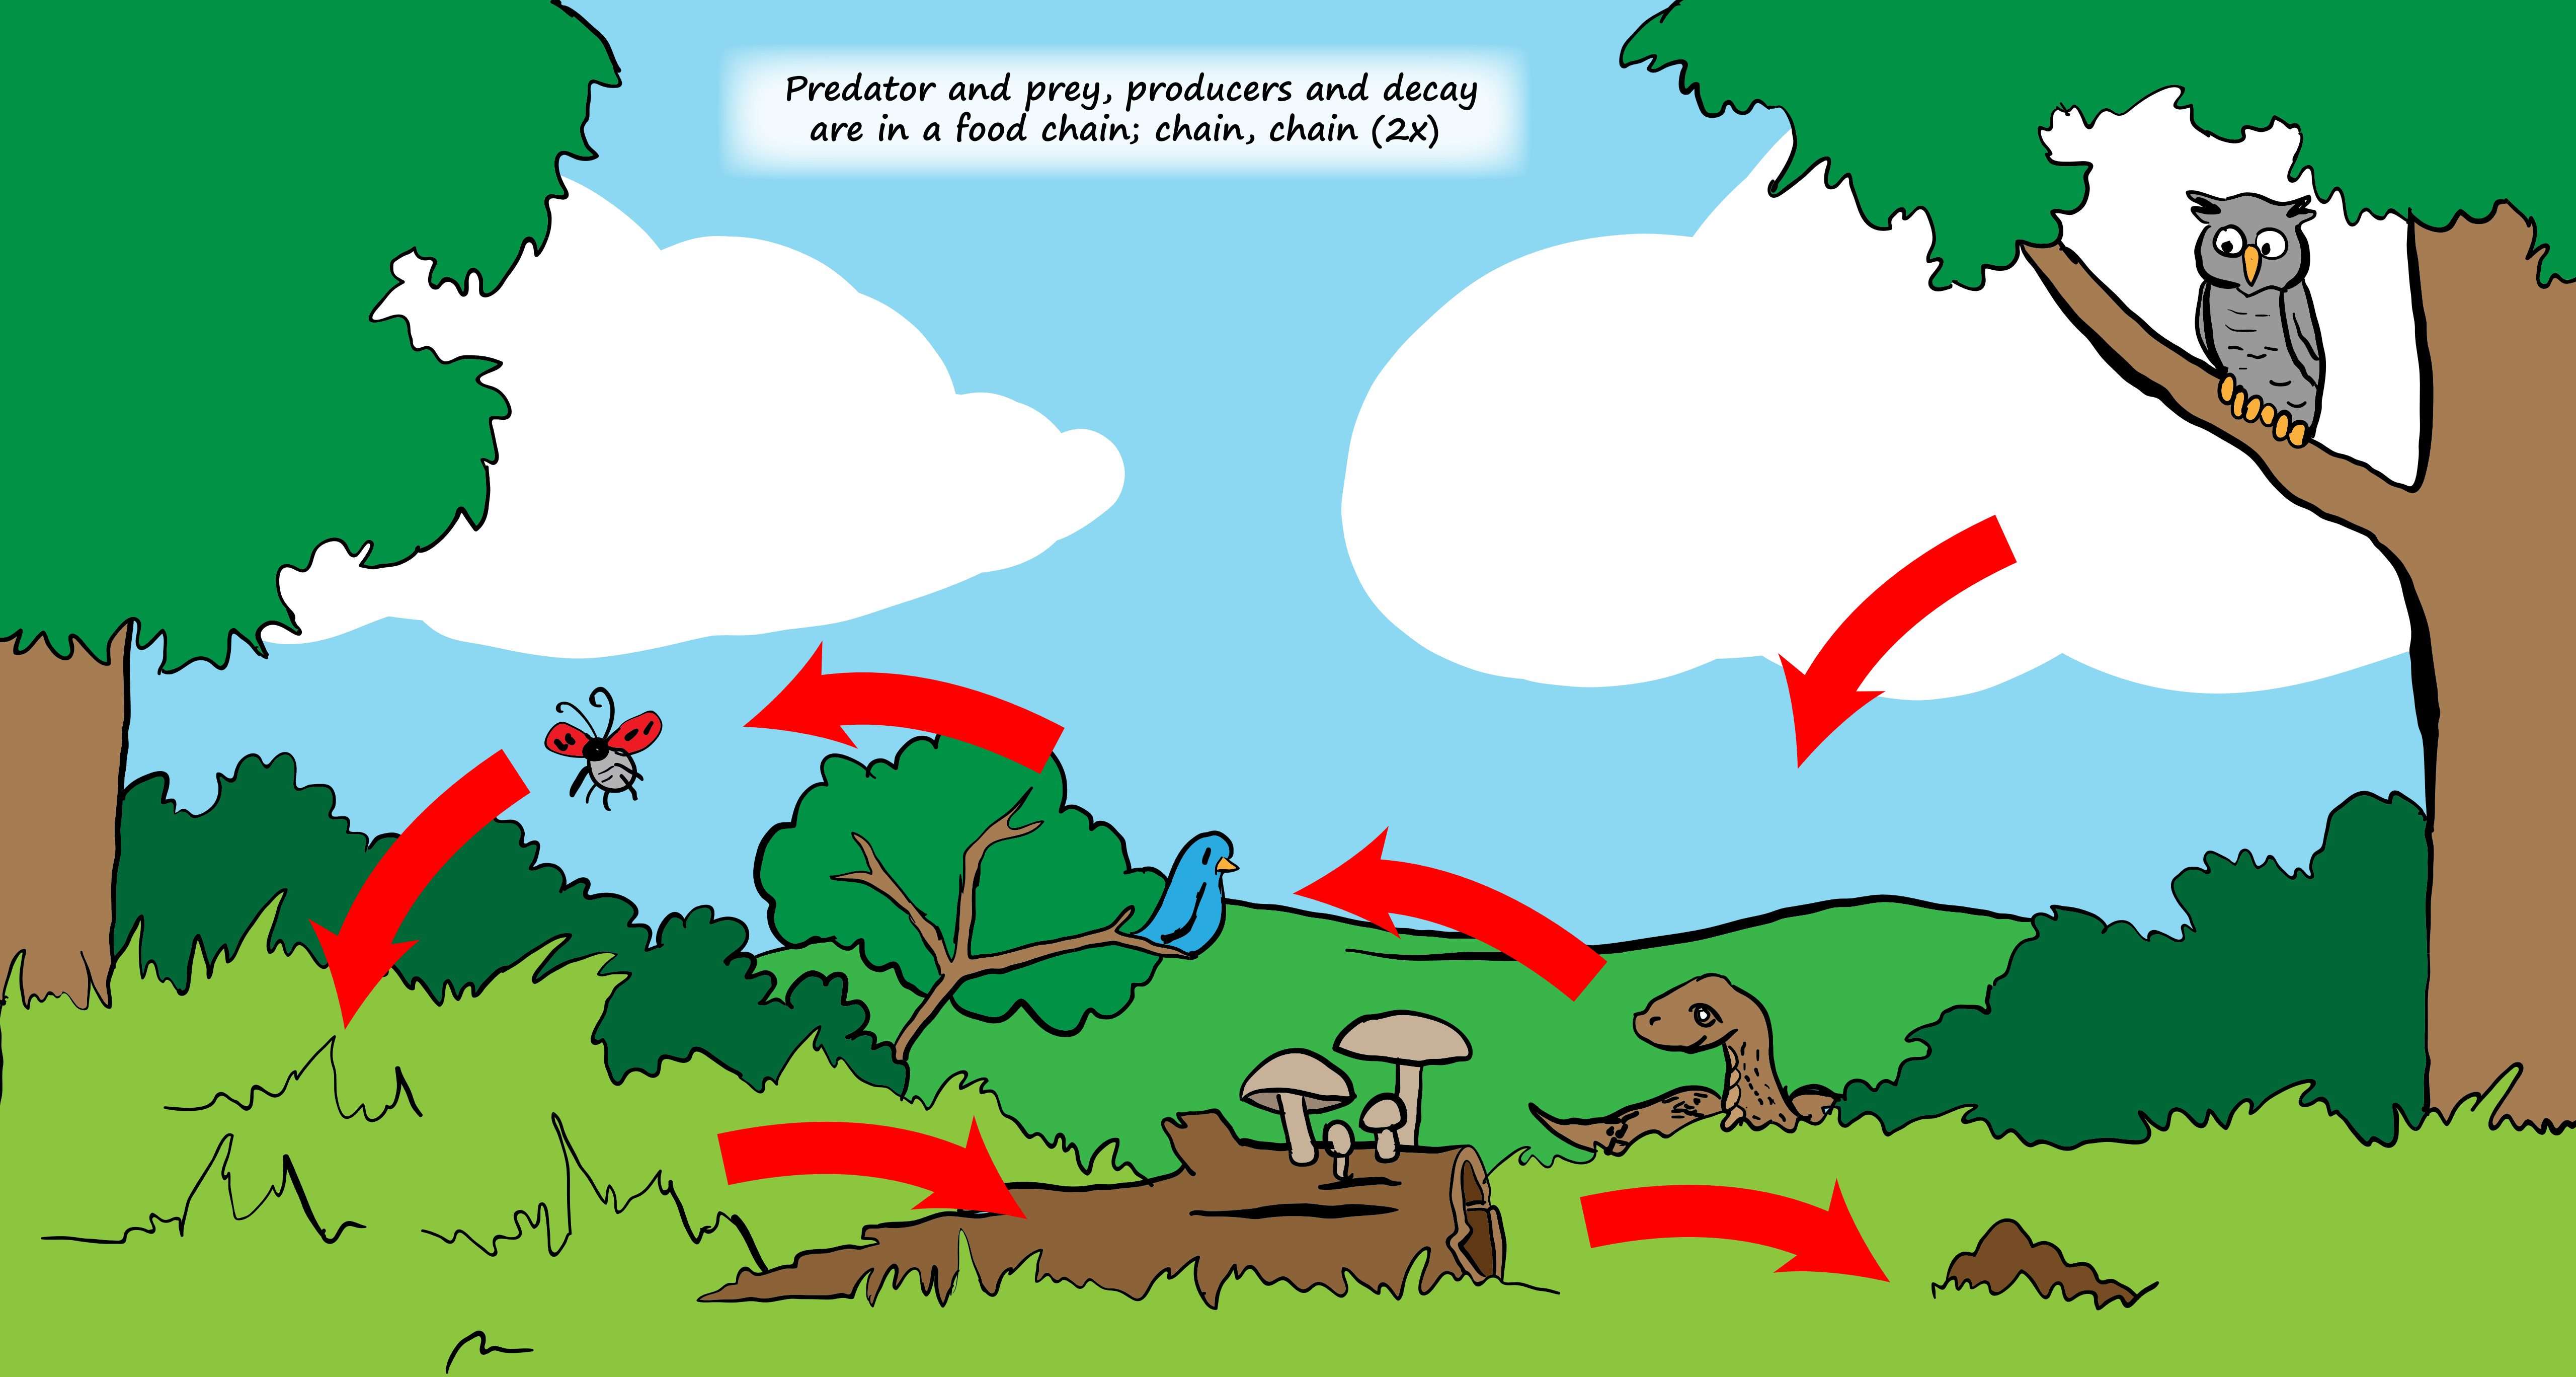

Plants are producers they're sun users, in the food chain.....chain, chain
They make food from the sun and the food chain has begun, in the food chain.....chain, chain

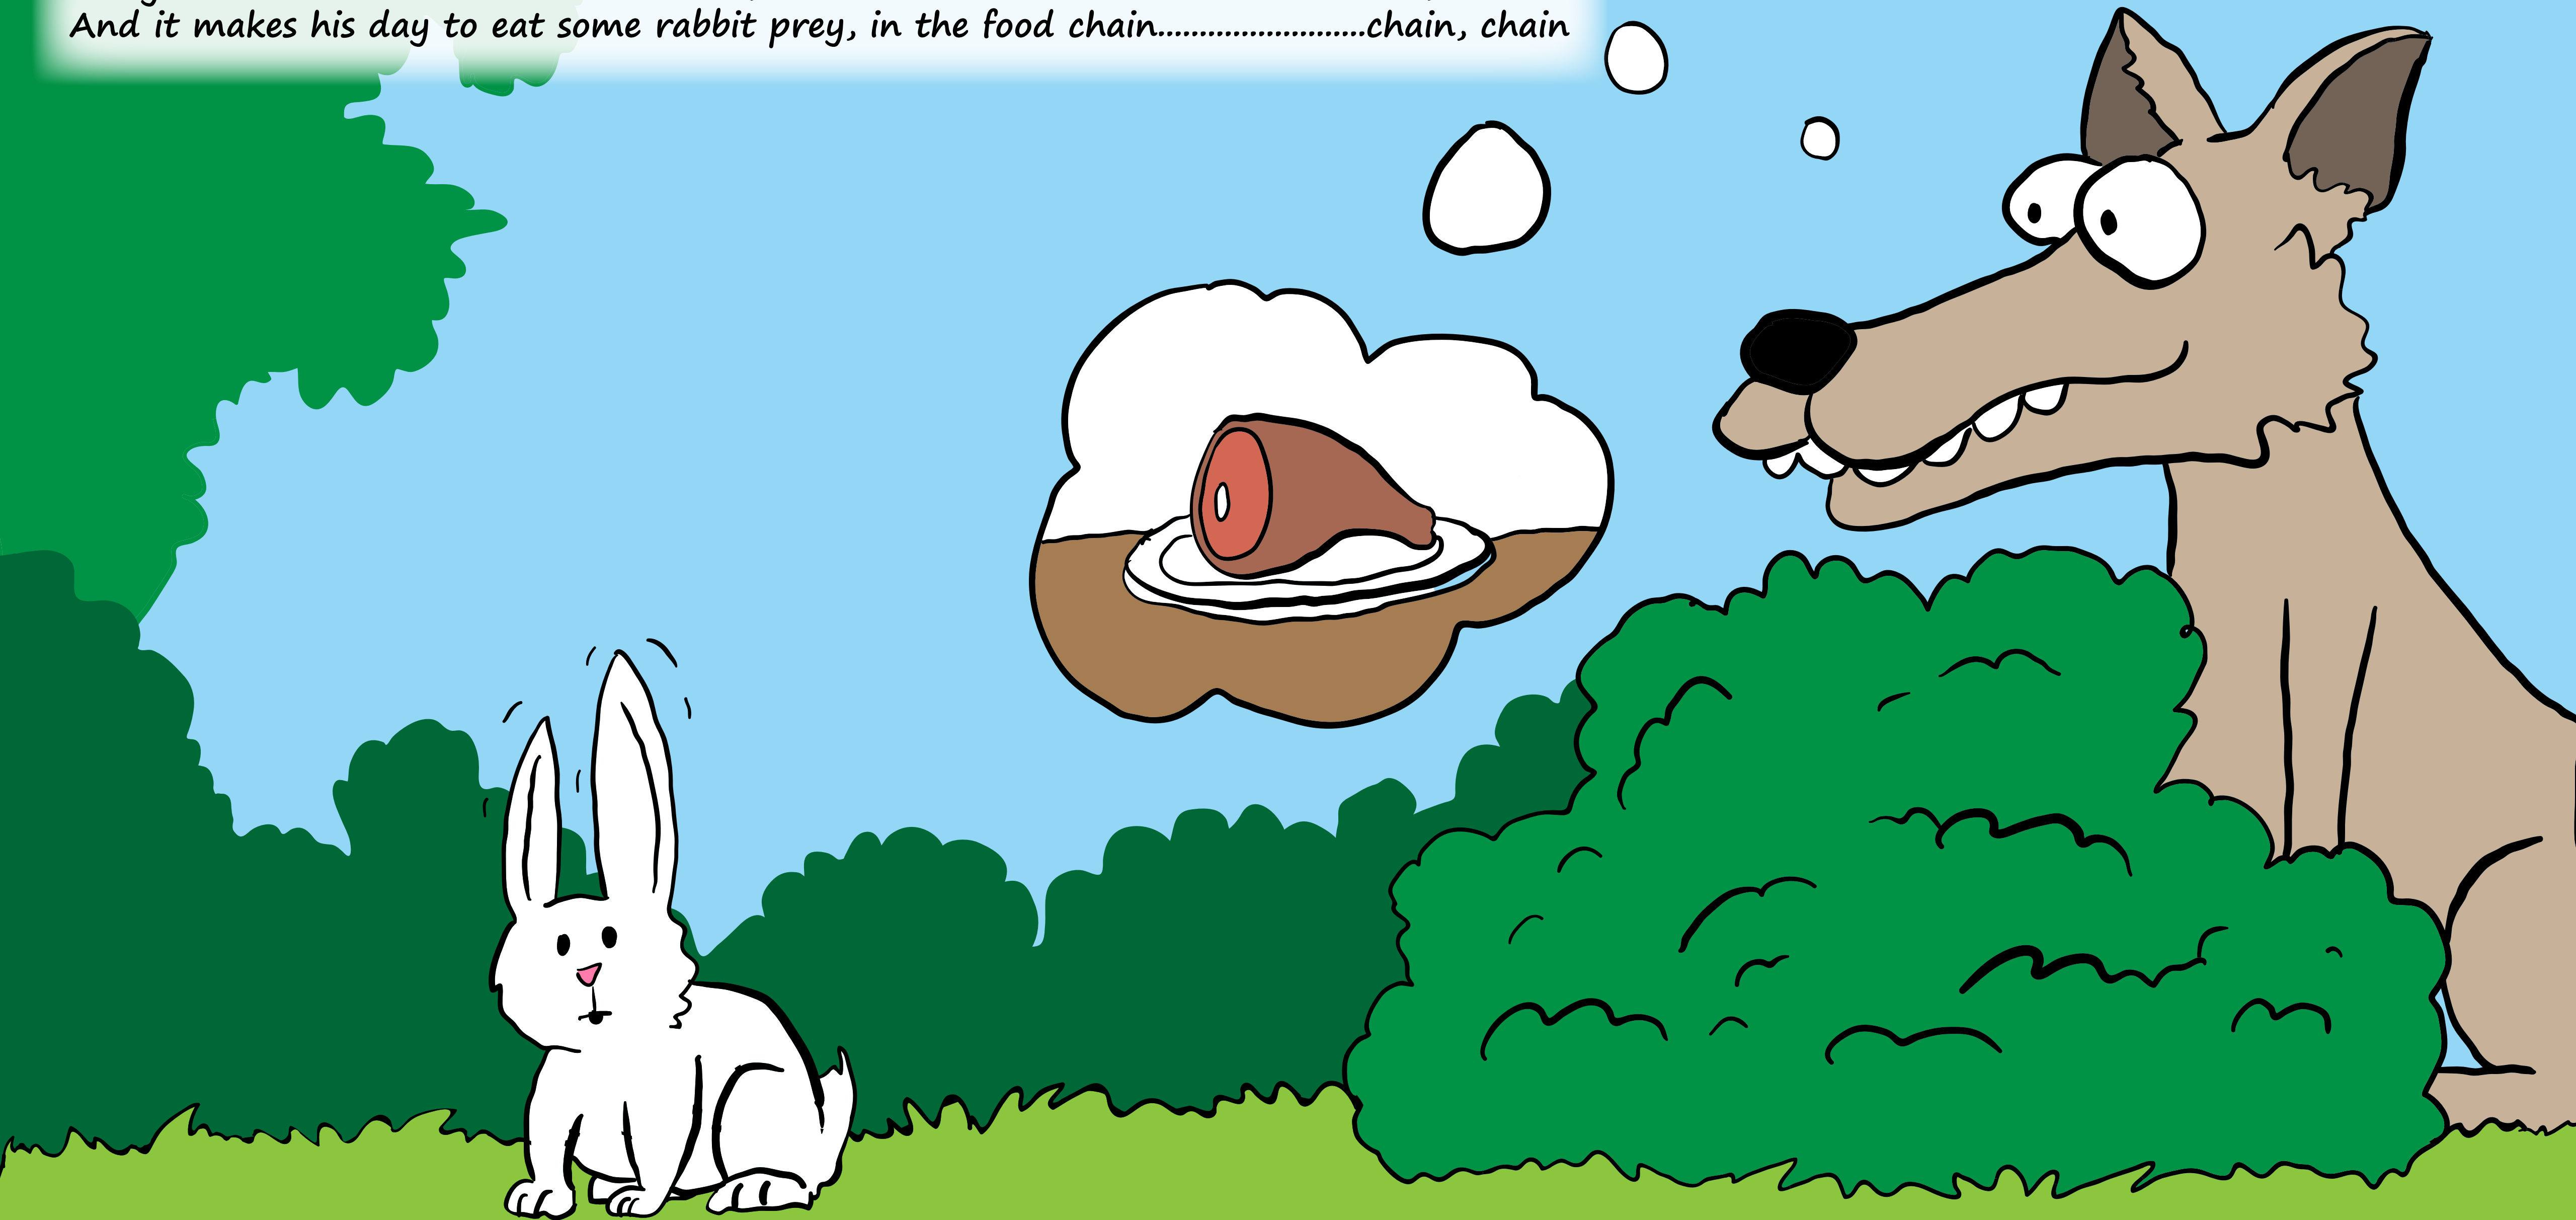

PLANTS

PLEASE

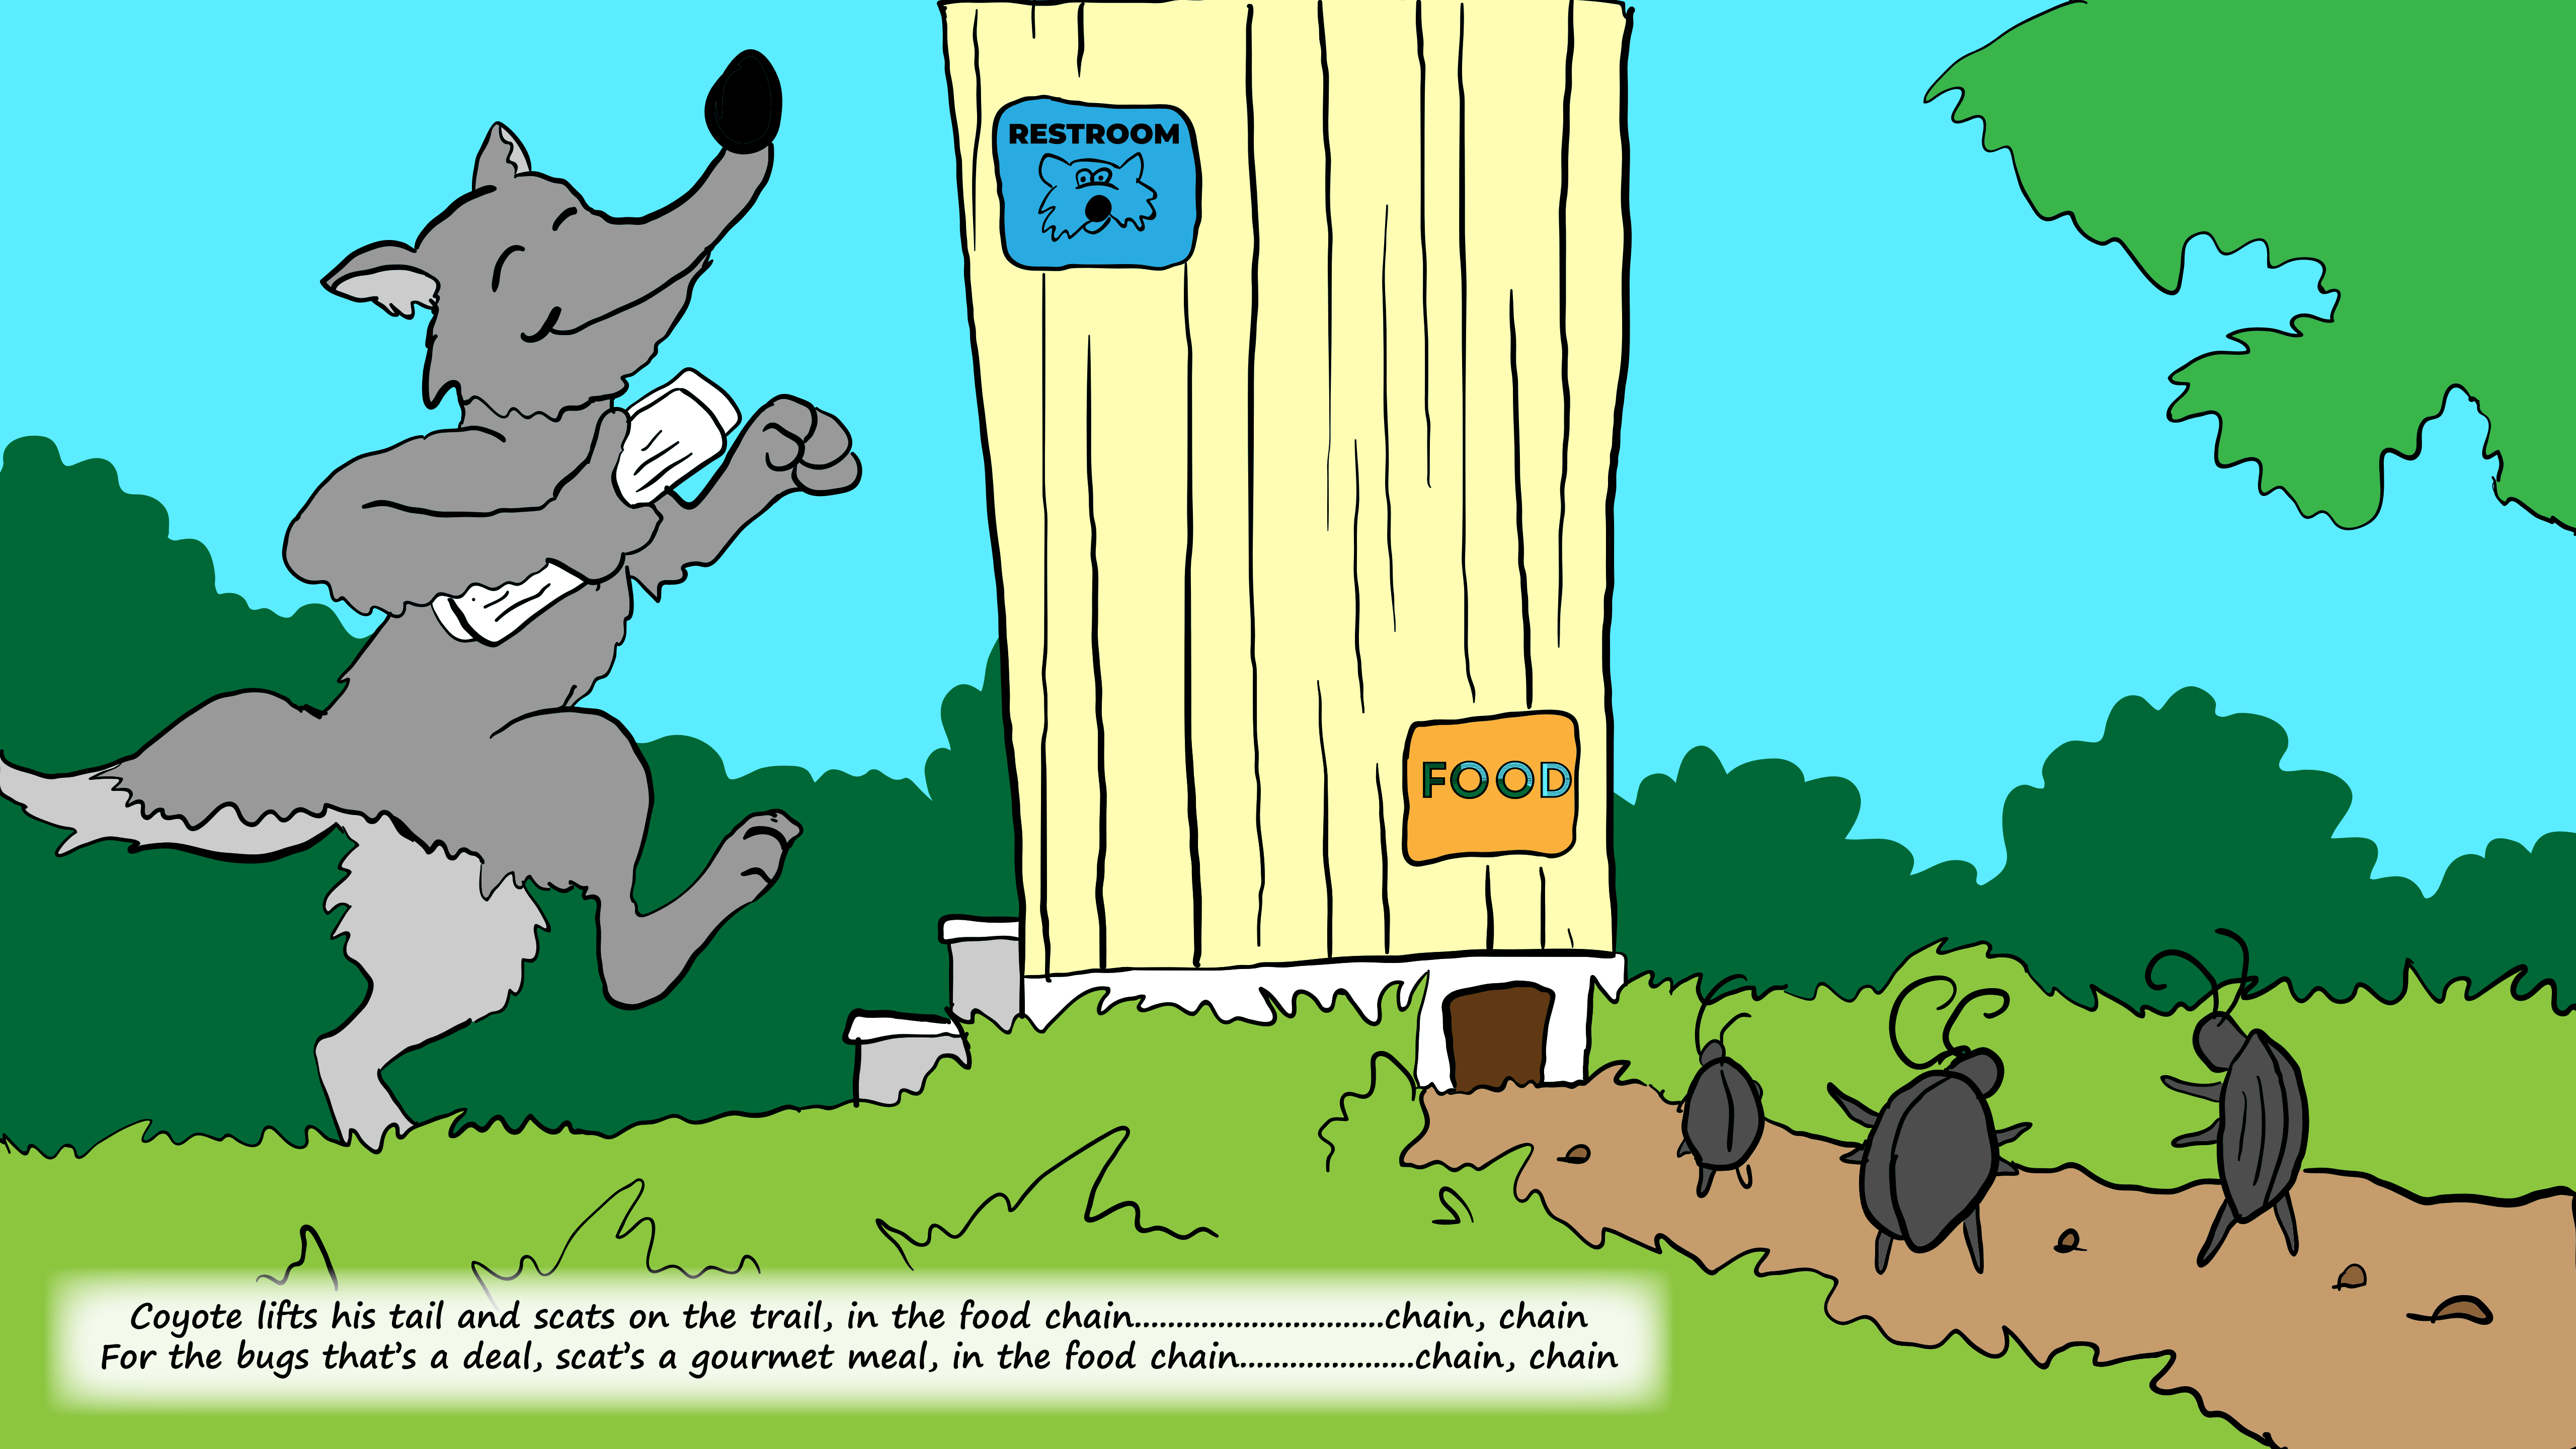

Rabbit comes along and eats the plants down, in the food chain.....chain, chain
But the plants they have more to feed that herbivore, in the food chain.....chain, chain

Predator and prey, producers and decay
are in a food chain; chain, chain (2x)

Coyote likes to eat a little rabbit meat, in the food chain.....chain, chain
And it makes his day to eat some rabbit prey, in the food chain.....chain, chain

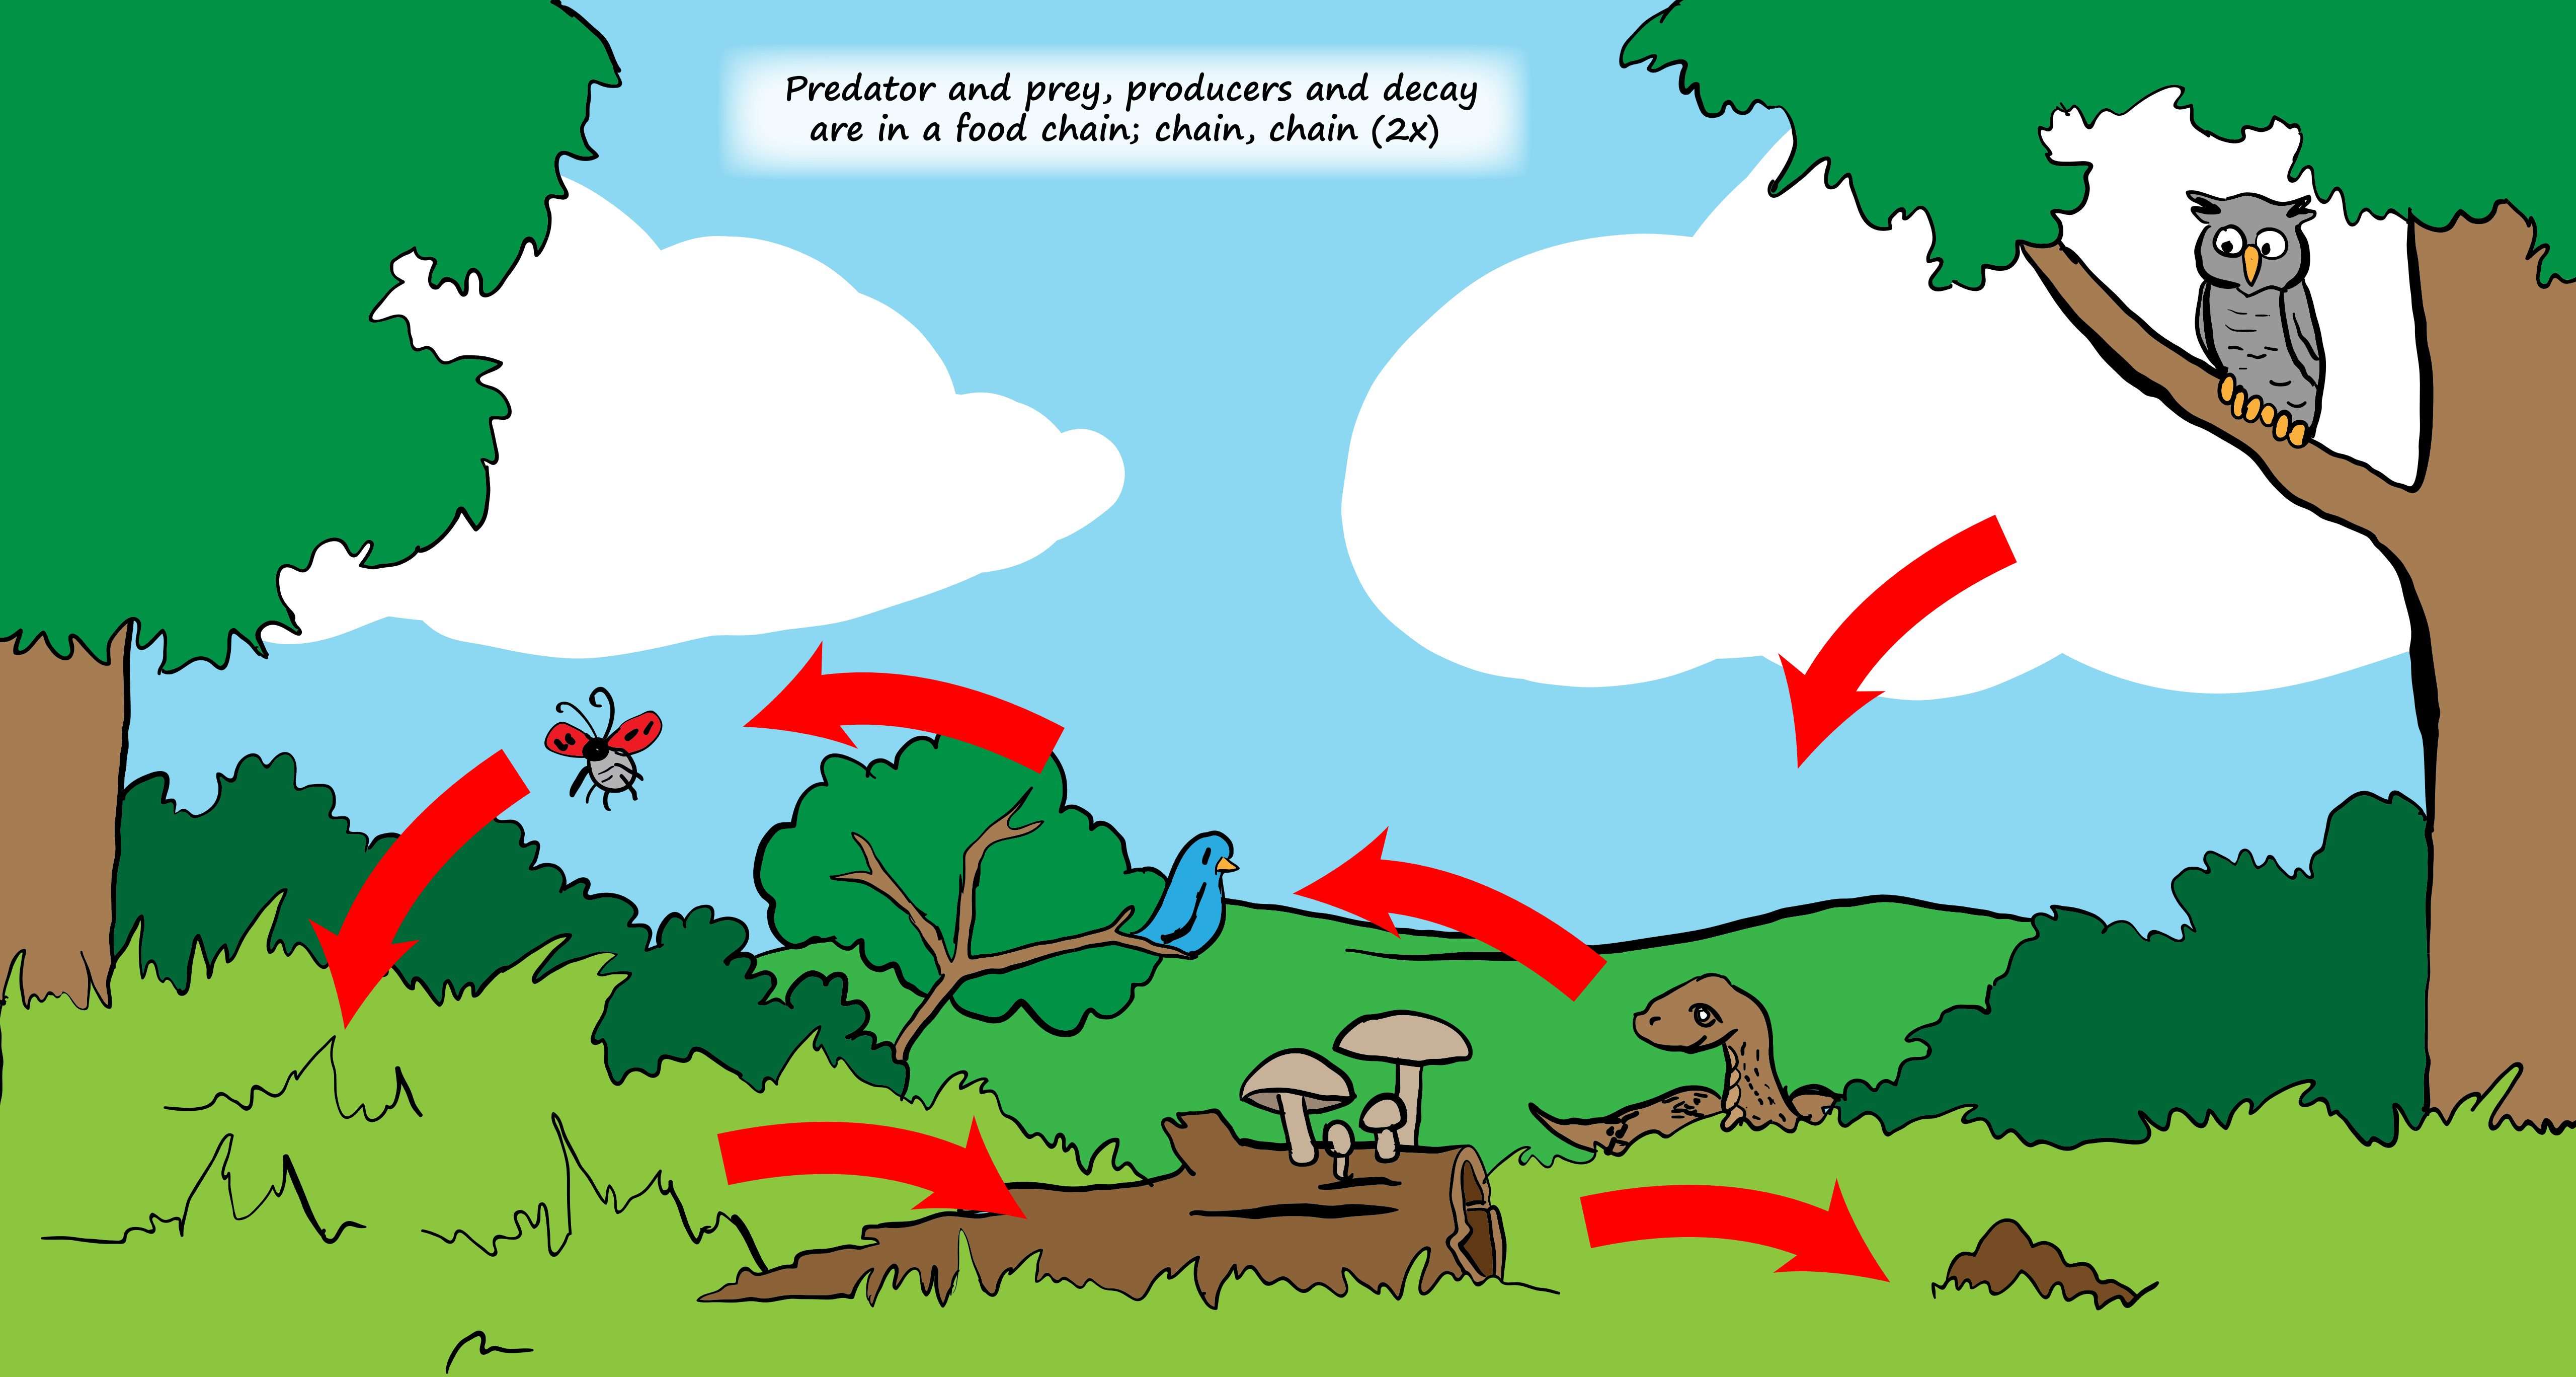

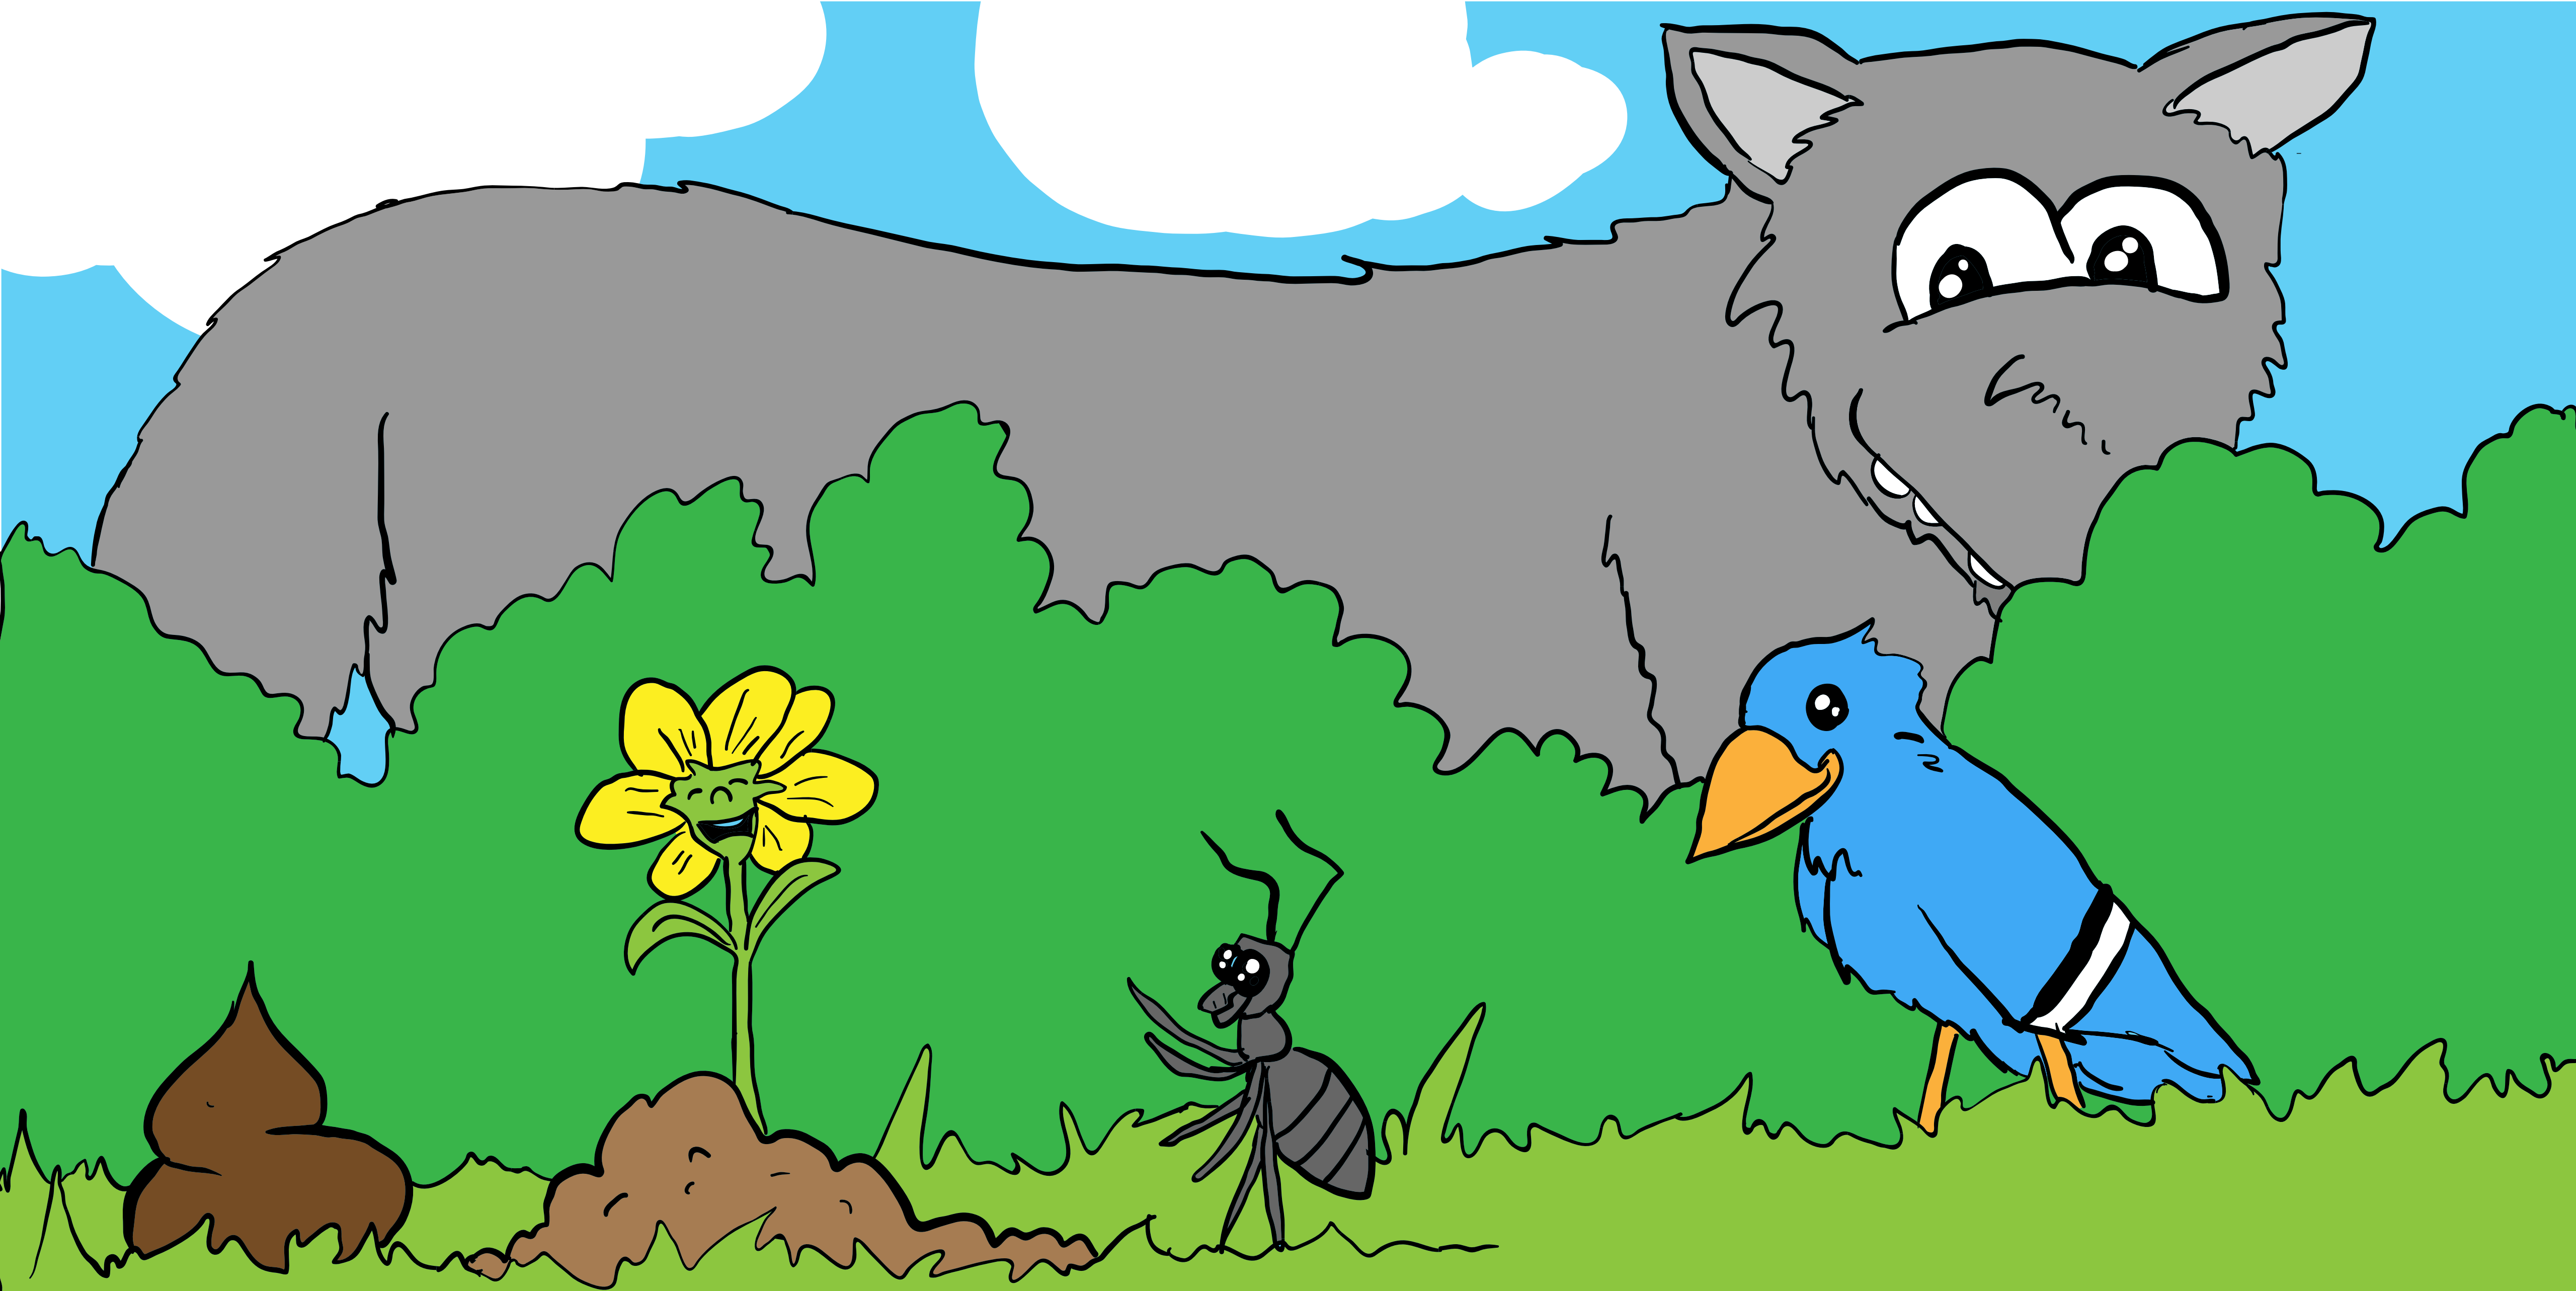

RESTROOM

FOOD

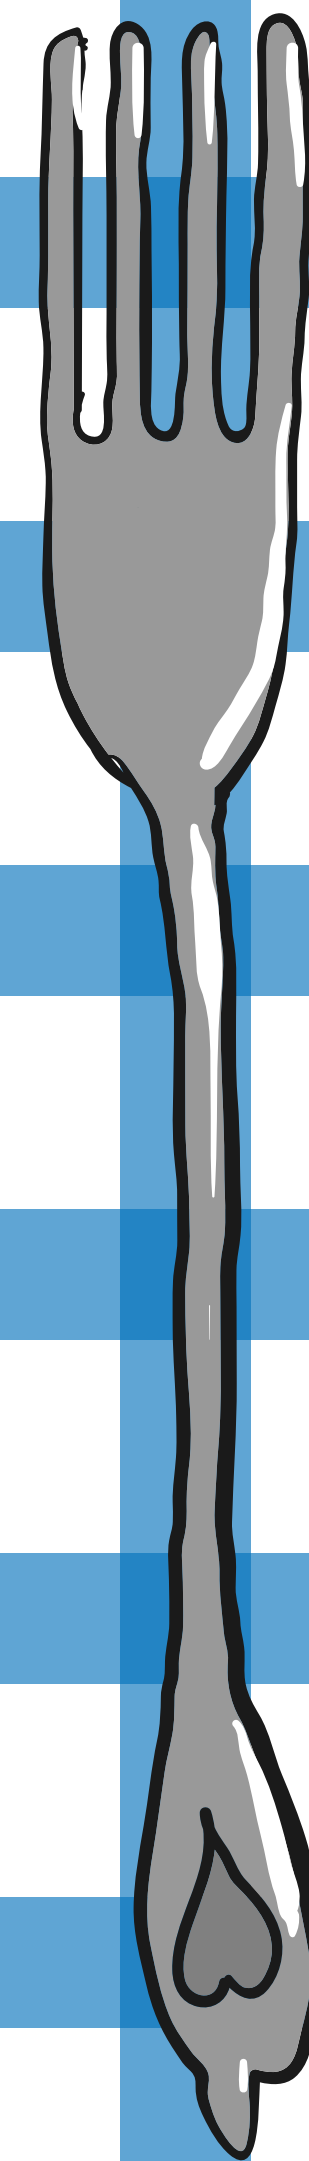

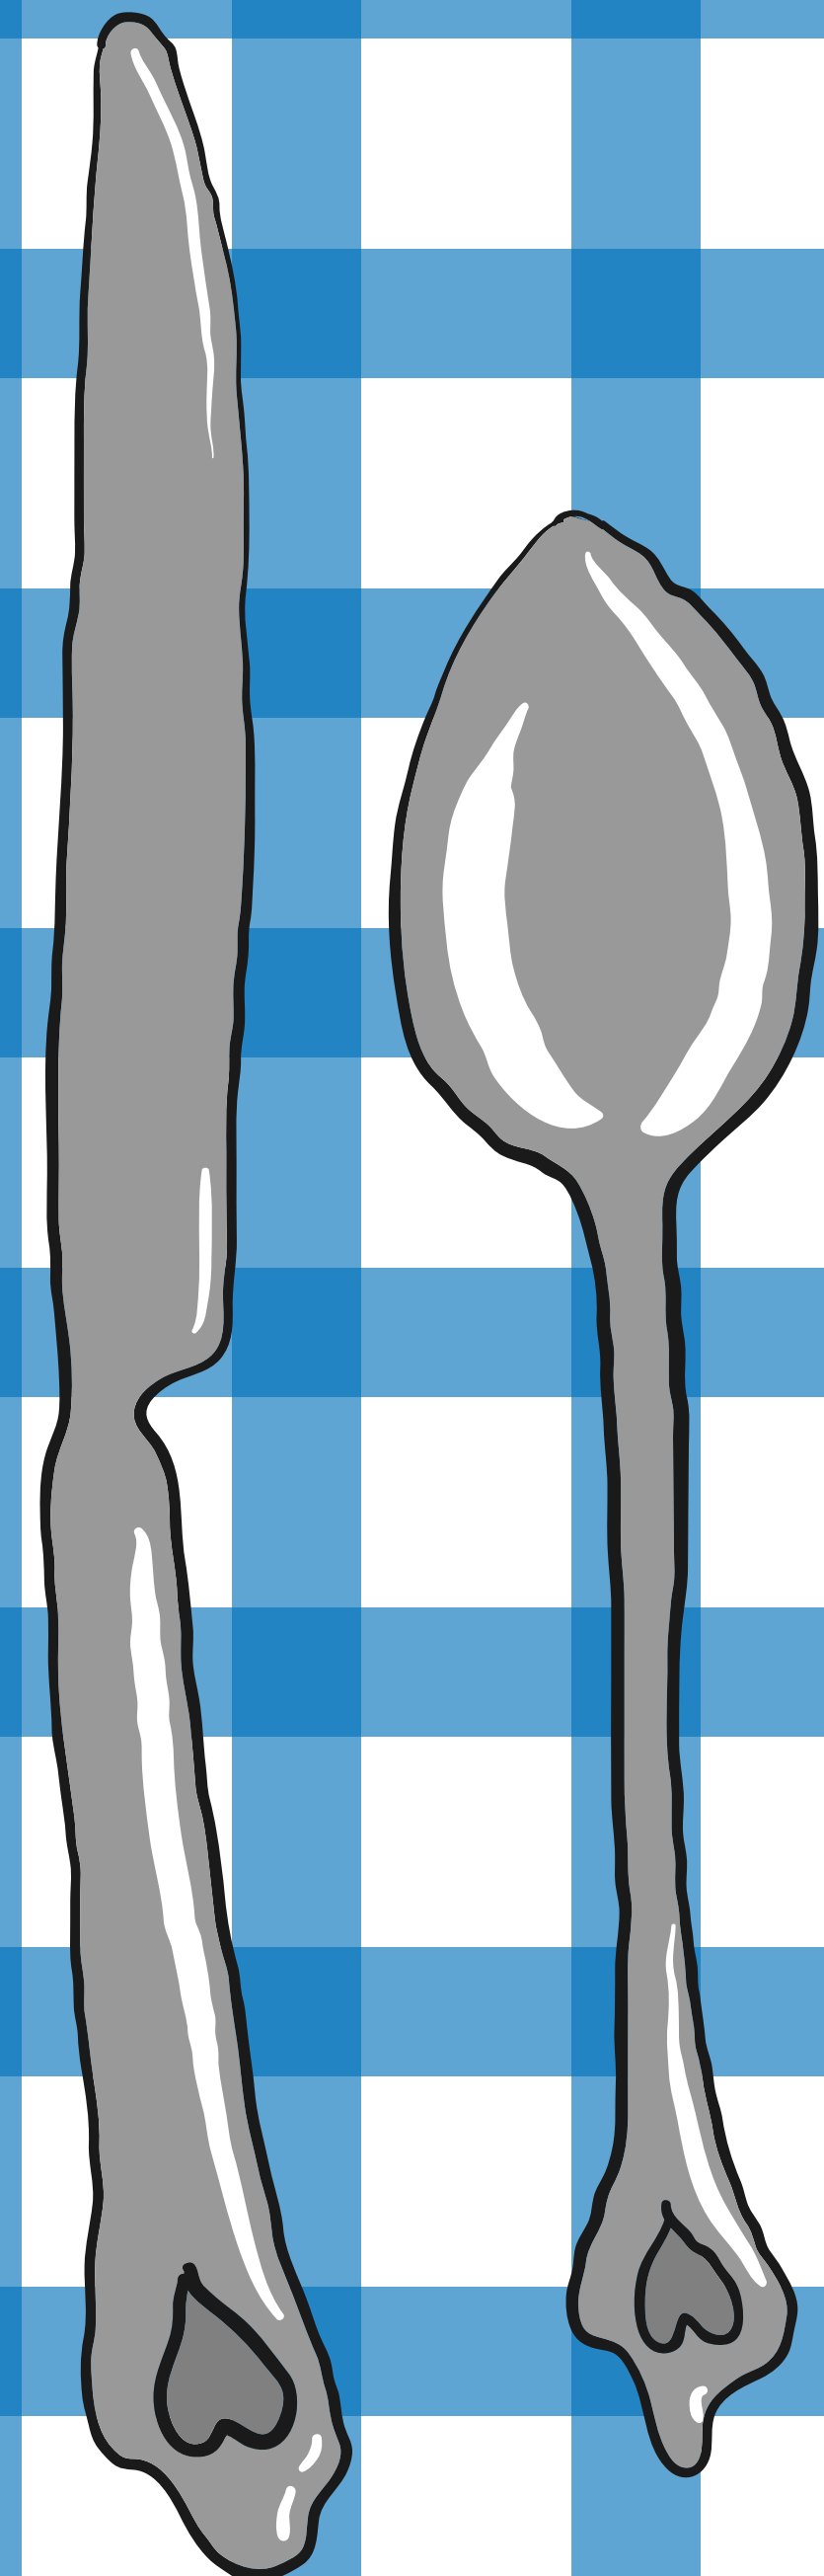

Coyote lifts his tail and scats on the trail, in the food chain.....chain, chain
For the bugs that's a deal, scat's a gourmet meal, in the food chain.....chain, chain

Predator and prey, producers and decay
are in a food chain; chain, chain (2x)

The scat will decompose and a new plant grows, in the food chain.....chain, chain
So the food chain never ends, it just begins again, in the food chain.....chain, chain

You can see from this song how energy moves along, in the food chain.....chain, chain
So eat your food my friend but think of where its been, in the food chain.....chain, chain

Predator and prey, producers and decay
are in a food chain; chain, chain (2x)
