LEADING & SURVIVING

“Power is like drinking gin on an empty stomach. You feel dizzy, you get drunk, you lose your balance, and you can end up hurting yourself & those around you, if you don’t connect your power with humility and tenderness.”

Pope Francis

RESILIENT LEADERSHIP

“A sign of a resilient leader is not how he or she performs during the good times, but rather how the leader displays emotional strength, courage and professionalism during the most trying times.”

LESSONS LEARNED

- Find a mentor & be a mentor
- Be vulnerable – its ok that you do not have all the answers
- Being fair & respectful is more important than being liked
- Keep your eye on the “long game”
- Keep learning
- Do the right thing – even when its hard

LESSONS LEARNED

- Never expect gratitude – find it from within
- Have an outlet for stress
- Don't let fear stop you from taking calculated risks
- Recognize we all make mistakes, learn from them – do not blame others
- Be willing to forgive yourself & reflect

LEAD ON YOUR TERMS

“You can be kind, but strong, empathetic but decisive, optimistic but focused. And that you can be your own kind of leader – one who knows when it’s time to go.”

Jacinda Ardern, New Zealand Prime Minister
